Helping patients manage medical financing

Repaying your medical bill now has another option.

Central Wisconsin Anesthesiology S.C. recognizes that it is not always possible to immediately repay your financial obligations. Partnered with Alliance Business Services, Central Wisconsin Anesthesiology S.C. can now offer a long-term repayment solution that may fit better into your monthly budget. The ability to stretch your payments over months or even years, rather than having to pay upfront, can help ease financial pressures in your decision-making process.

Why an ABS payment plan?

You get the option of long-term financing without having to go through a credit approval process. This option is available to you exclusively through your service provider. Your account remains in good standing as long as monthly payments remain current. Future balances that qualify with the same provider are simple to add to your existing repayment plan.

“Knowing that my husband and I had options on paying for the birth of our first son was such a stress reliever. We had a few surprises along the way. The ABS plan allowed us to easily fit the repayment of those services into our budget over a longer period of time.”
